APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION TO UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOLS FOR MEN

(Graduate students and women applying for admission to undergraduate schools must use other applications obtainable at the Office of Admissions.)

Yeshiva College (YC), the University's undergraduate school of arts and sciences for men, offers courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. Students apply to Yeshiva College and simultaneously to either James Striar School (JSS), Erna Michael College (EMC), or the Yeshiva Program (YP). Yeshiva Program offers courses in Talmud and related subjects. Erna Michael College (open also to students who do not attend YC) offers a full program of Jewish studies, taught in Hebrew, leading to a Hebrew Teacher's Diploma and the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. Students who have had little preparation in Hebrew and are not qualified to enter YP or EMC apply to JSS.

Let us remember again and again those who fell Yom Kippur, 5[illegible]; as a lesson of courage, compassion, survival.

Their courage & spirit live on in the hearts of all Jews and in the hearts of all men & women who love freedom. Let us remember— and renew our resolve to survive.

In September, 1970, while most of the freshmen had arrived at Yeshiva, David Raab was with his family aboard a TWA plane that had been hijacked by Arab terrorists and which was forced to land at Zaraka airport in Jordan. After finally spending a year with us, David turned down the Heights and became the first member of the Class of 1974 to go on Aliya.

Rabbi J.B. Soloveitchik,
the man of halakhah, is universally recognized as one of the major Jewish leaders and philosophers of our times. His ideas and thoughts have influenced large segments of the world Jewish community, so much so, that Rabbi Soloveitchik is referred to by the simple appellation "The Rav".

At the latest census, there were about 18,000 secretaries at Yeshiva. However at any one time there are only about six who are working.

Most of the secretaries seem to have been recruited from Bell Telephone; they forever call on their experience. In fact, one secretary made the AMA Journal last year when she had a telephone receiver surgically removed from her ear.

The truth however is, that while they successfully manage to keep you from seeing or speaking to the party you try endlessly to reach the secretaries are among those few willing to speak to you.

MENDEL GOTTESMAN LIBRARY
Fourth Floor

ONE WAY

6/7/1974

To spend four years at yeshiva living in its dorms is like eating a bowl of cherries-you can't avoid the pits. Where else could you find an eight floor walkup overlooking the Harlem River for only $500 a year? How can you choose riding the noisy, grimy, crime-ridden subways late at night after a tiring lab when you can get the same conveniences right in the dorm? Weighing the advantages, you might tend to overlook the minor inconveniences like drafty rooms, paper-thin walls, semi-annual maid visits and bathrooms shared by only fifty people.

Your first day in the dorm you meet your floor counselor and get well acquainted. Usually because you'll never see him again. For the first week he might wake you up for minyan by a knock on the door. The next week he'll try to to open your door and give you a nudge. This stops the third week when neither he nor you bother any longer to get up for minyan. (Yeshiva would be better off eliminating floor counselors - their rooms could better serve as dumbwaiters for returning dirty plates and food trays to Parker's.).....

The stairs and elevators in the dorms require a little getting used to. This can take anywhere from a month to four years. The staircases only go to alternate floors while the elevators are capable of stopping on every floor, skipping every other floor or keeping you between floors. This presents no major problem since frequently they're not working at all. The breakdown rate is predictable. Whether you live or want to visit someone on the top floor you can count on the elevator not getting there. Should you have a room on the top floor, get yourself some comfortable shoes, an oxygen tank and your education through a correspondance course. While the elevators have a passenger capacity of ten, on a normal day they'll hold anywhere from forty-three to a hundred and eight before descending to pick up more. The Rubin elevator also has room for over thirteen hundred dirty plates and trays from Parker's, but obviously its passenger capacity is then slightly reduced.....

Half the dorm rooms offer you a panoramic view looking over Yeshiva's Danciger campus. On a clear day this view is better to be overlooked. The other half of the dorm rooms face either Belfer or an apartment house. The kids in these rooms shut the lights in their rooms at night and hope to see something interesting across the way. Unless of course those lights are already off and they're hoping to see something interesting in the dorms? The great advantage of the rooms with a view of the back is that it is easier for them to empty their garbage - via the window. To keep the light, draft and view from entering, the dorm residents plaster their windows with posters, empty can pyramids, local traffic signs and lab specimens (varying from term to term). This really is unnecessary - since nothing usually penetrates the years of grime accumulated on the windows....

"Rare" instances of cracked windows, broken locks or lost keys are taken care of simply by first locating your floor counselor, (if you can) and then finding Mrs Kol, OSF, Mr Blazer, and filling out their forms in triplicate. This usually takes quite some time, so it best to anticipate any problems about four weeks before they actually happen, in order to be prepared....

Lunch is the time for the daily ritual of checking for mail. If you can't remember your combination - or its jammed (usual) you can always go around to the back and get whatever you're looking for. You can always find your box stuffed with the weeks mimeographed circulars - which are automatically dumped in the appropriately placed trash can. You get used to receiving letters addressed to you with two week old postmarks. The office staff usually take a week to sort all the letters and an additional week to read all the mail. Of course, any boxes that rattle when shaken are checked for food. This results in you getting alot of empty boxes and a very fat office staff. You learn eventually that subscribing to magazines means getting them late, torn and with all the interesting articles cut out. The office staff has mastered numbers - but not the alphabet yet - so should the mailing party forget to include your room number, your letter is placed in a dead letter pile (which is emptied twice a day by the maintenance staff).

Officially, TV's, stereos, hotplates, refrigerators and the opposite sex are illegal in the dorm rooms. Statistically however, you're more apt to find more of these items in the morg than in Rubin. (The walls in Rubin are so thin, you can actually watch TV from two doors down.) .....

The dorms are each equipped with five washing machines and seven dryers to serve about 400 guys. Somehow, no matter what time of day or night you go down, there are ten fellas with their laundry in suitcases waiting ahead of you for an empty machine. There really is no such thing as finding an empty machine, its either overloaded or broken. Whenever you take your clothes out of the machine, it won't surprise you to find only one of your shirts and another's underwear. The only alternatives are to wear one set of clothes all term or to bring all your laundry with you whenever you go home.

The dorms have about twenty phones. But on any given night, twelve are 'out of order' and the others are permanently occupied. A record was broken when one senior spent 6.5 non stop hours on a phone - spending only one dime, and clicking the phone 3,402 times to avoid the operator. Most kids resort to getting their own phones or getting friends who have them.

Cheifetz and the dorm committee have a unique way of matching up roommates. They find the first two people who's last names don't rhyme and place them together. Out of town students complained that thanks to this system, they sometimes ended up on the top floors which was very inconvenient on shabbos. The problem was solved by putting a lot more out-of-towners together on the top floors; without checking first to see if their names rhyme or not.

Despite all the request forms you fill out, you will usually end up with one of the following types of roommates:

TYPE A

He never misses minyan - he goes every morning and night. You pretend you're asleep in the morning when he gets up - he's got the world's loudest alarm clock - rivaling Big Ben's chimes. It's set daily for 6:30 am and 6:15 on rosh chodesh. His shaving sounds like a lawn mower going over some gravel. His gargling is an exact imitation of a flushing toilet. When he sees your eyes are still closed, he slams the door on his way out so loud that it never fails to drop another piece of plaster on your head. He gives you another forty-five minutes of sleep until he's back and preparing for class. He usually takes along about eighteen books, a casette recorder and a box of Kleenex.

He never misses a meal at Parker's and loves it - he even tries to get his mother to make some of the dishes when he goes home. He keeps his side of the room antiseptically sterile and immaculately neat with everything put away in its place. This literally drives you crazy. (He forgave you for that time you couldn't control yourself and threw chicken bones under his desk and walked all over his bed and pillow in wet galoshes, and then accused the maid.) When its 20° outside he has to sleep with the window open but makes you close it when its over 90°. Over his bed, he has a tiny calendar with photographs of hatching chickens (its hung up with bandaids). He circles, in red, all the days that we have school. He wanted to paint the room but you couldn't agree on any of his favorite colors - prison grey or hot pink. Over his desk he has a flystrip full of dead flies. On his desk he has a little transistor radio with earplugs (so he can listen to the news every hour on the hour). He also has the alarm clock, a pushka that he fills every night (and that you empty every morning of dimes for the phone), a roll of charmin bathroom tissue and a gold framed photograph of his family taken at his bar-mitzvah. (He used to have his schedule of courses taped to the window until he once noticed, outside the dorm, that you had taped a centerfold to the back of it.)

He goes to sleep every night at 10:30pm after the minyan, the news and smearing cream all over his face. He then fluffs his pillow, arranges his books and clothes for the next day.

ADMIT ONE
GENERAL
ADMISSION

He keeps the tie he wears to class under books. His idea of an all-nighter is staying up till 10:45 pm. His idea of a water fight is spraying a little water on you in the shower room. He is usually pre-med and can sleep very comfortably with a dissected shark under his bed. He paid for half the refrigerator but only uses it for a container of skim milk and plain yogurt. He thinks that all stern girls are 'TZIUSNIK' and that Rubin is just like home. It probably is.

TYPE B

HE's been at the minyan a total of eight times during four years - usually because he had fallen asleep after studying all night in the shule (the only quiet room in the dorm). Studying really means cramming all night before a test. All-nighters mean starting to study at midnight for about an hour, going to see who else is up and then staring out the window until the sun rises. Living in the dorm also means waking up at 9:05am for a 9:00 class. It means spending 126 all-nighters bullshitting with the fellas, playing cards, talking on the phone, & watching 4000 hours of TV. Going to sleep early means 2:00AM. He has also a few conveniences to make himself feel at home; four speaker stereo, TV, hot plate, 14 cubic refridgerator, broiler, toaster and piano. The only time he eats at Parker's is when his roommate's parents come up. He's a regulator customer of Shmulk's and he uses Parker's plates for ashtrays. The maid refuses to even enter his room unless she has a pick, shovel and exterminator. She usually just puts a quarrantine sign on his door and prays for the summer. The walls are plastered with village posters and photos of his home town teams. The clothes are kept ordered in the closet - those still to be worn on hangars and those already worn, on the floor. If he's on a team, he hangs his sweaty uniform, socks and jocks dripping over the sink. Stern girls are considered dogs but good to take out when you're desperate. When the Knicks are on TV, he can have about forty guys in his room watching all night. There is probably more lounge furniture in the room than in the lounge. The YC catalog is placed in a very important spot in the room - under the leg of the chair to keep it from rocking. The best days he's spent at YU have been a hundred miles away from the dorm.

SOME HOW, YOU ALWAYS THINK THAT YOUR ROOMMATE IS THE WIERD ONE. HE SEEMS TO THINK SO ALSO.

There are alot of other aspects to dorm life that you simply wouldn't get living at home (or in an apartment).

How many times have you;

Watched the rain fall into your room?

Taken a hot shower with ice water?

Watched TV in the lounge with 103 other guys and have the color adjusted and channel changed during every commercial?

Found an empty bathroom stall only to find out too late - no paper?

Found a telephone with an 'out of order' sign on it - that really works?

Had an engagement party at 1am - the night before your midterm - next door?

Had forty guys watching the knicks on TV - the night before your final - next door?

How can you ever forget the time you were typing your termpaper in the morg, and you had your window open when someone opened the door - it took two days till the vacuum died down, and another two days to find all the pages. Or what about the times that it is so hot in the room at night that the flies are performing aerial acrobatics over you all night? When it becomes so unbearably hot that the roaches start sweating, the annual waterfights begin (They're usually easy to predict - they always coincide with midterms and finals). This is the YU ritual where four million baggies and balloons are bought, and the water pressure for all of upper Manhattan goes down.

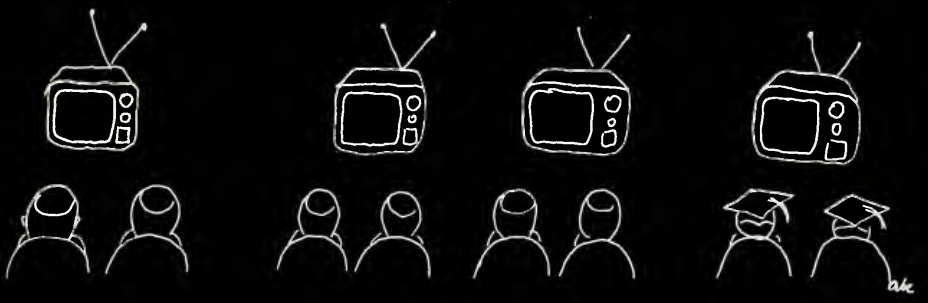
you either shut the lights in your room before you toss the water bombs out, or, the clever ones go into someone else's room to throw them out. The pros go into the room above you to throw them at your protruding head. After the water, anything that floats gets thrown out- tissues, toilet paper, old term papers, commentators and other garbage. It looks like a ticker-tape parade, only it's in Harlem and the only celebrities are the ones who hit cheifetz or a cop.

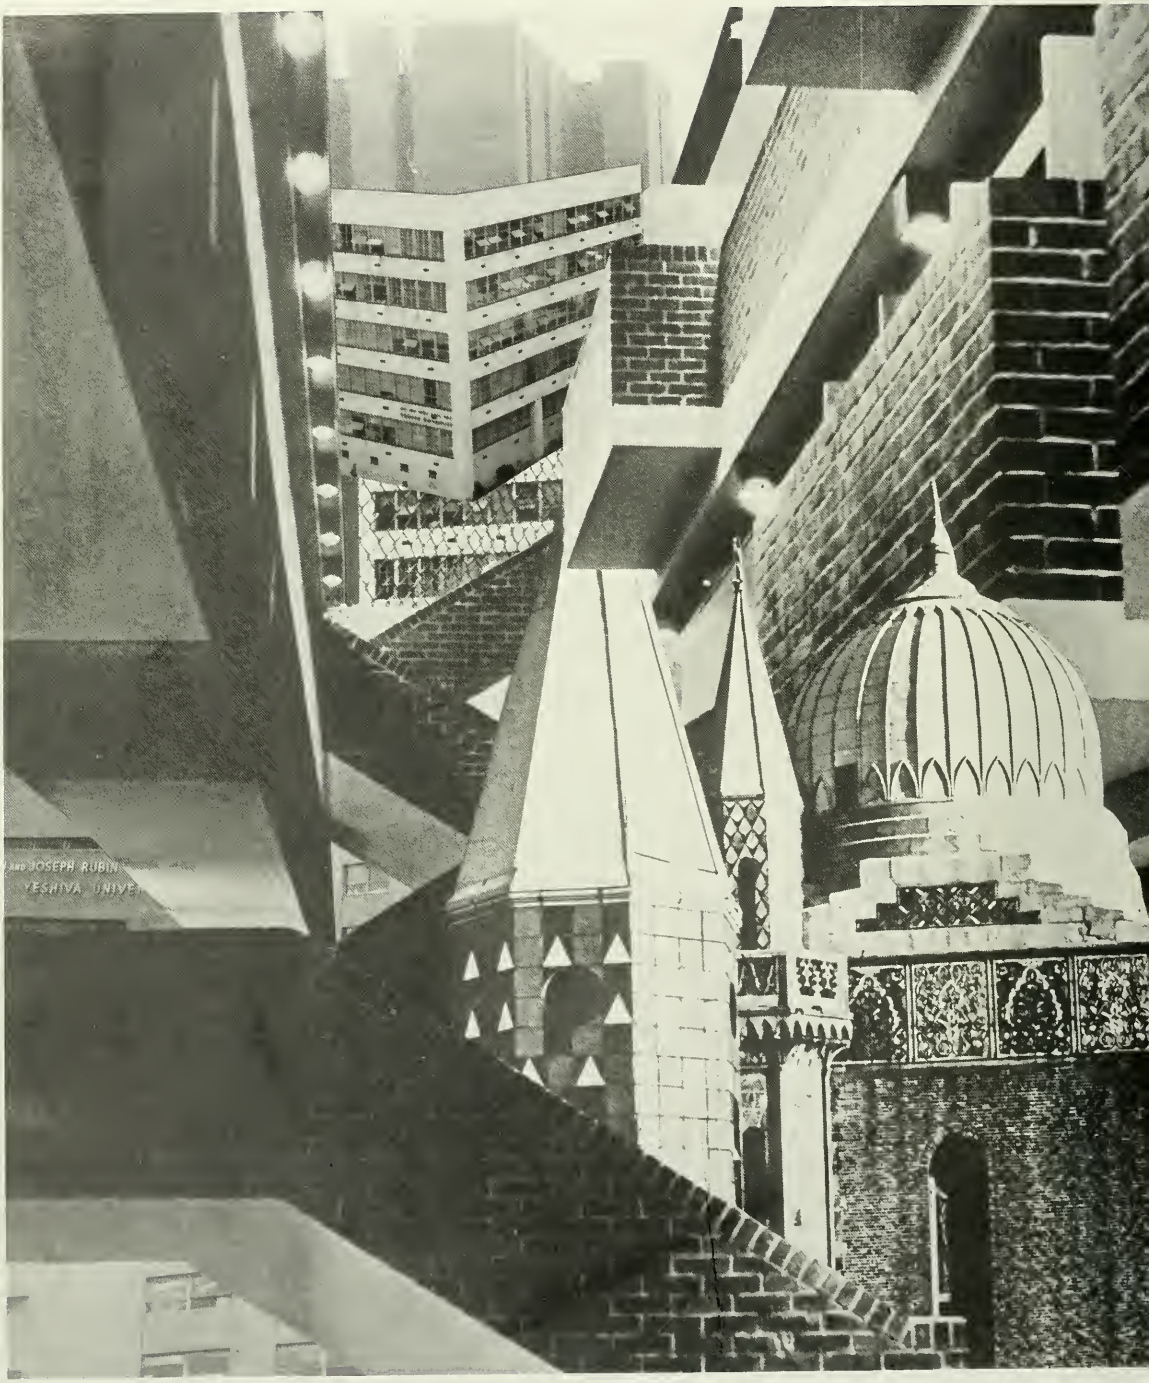
Chanukah is a pleasant spiritual retreat at YU. in the dorms. Besides the festive atmosphere, its beautiful to look up at night and see a hundred menorahs burning bright in the windows. With a little imagination you can pretend the dorm is burning down.

Dormlife also means having Hockey tournaments down those long corridors. It also means every inch of wall space plastered with flyers, campaign signs etc. It means waking up the guards in the lobby and playing football on the grass all night- but with forty guys on a side and no lights..... It means having twelve YU guys trying to fit twelve trunks into one taxi they're all sharing to the airport. Every september you come to the dorm with one trunk and manage to accumulate, by June, enough to fill eleven. You end up leaving all the stuff in the storage closet anyway. After four years at YU, it would take you another four years just to go through the stuff.

After four years you leave behind you the all-nighters, waterfights, heatless nights, boiling nights, shmulks, 'minyan' and Johnny Carson. some head back home, others to their own apartments, some to graduate school and smicha (and the dorms again). Now, you will go out and leave your mark on society- after having left your mark at YU; the dorm, walls and floors.

AFTER FOUR YEARS, YOU WONDER HOW YOU EVER LIVED THROUGH IT.
YOU NOW HAVE A LIFETIME TO REMEMBER/FORGET ABOUT IT.





JOSEPH RUBIN
YESHIVA UNIVE

YU's main library is housed in a modern designed, recently completed structure. A great deal of money was spent on the construction to obtain the right accoustics. If you are studying on the fifth floor, on a quiet evening you can actually hear someone turning the pages in the basement. Of course its not usually so quiet, the music from the photostat machines IS usually piped throughout. The library houses the city's largest collection of books printed before 1920. Some recent acquisitions include "The Making of the President-1932", "IS MANNED SPACE FLIGHT IN THE NEAR FUTURE?" and the ever popular "A complete History of our forty-eight states." A continually updated list of required reading texts for current college courses is maintained in the library. Students have access to these lists and then can proceed to obtain the book at one of the city's other college libraries. The administration recently installed new, extensive lighting only to find out that it was dust that was obscuring the book titles. Due to recent cutbacks, the staff was trimmed to only 200 bodies. This figure was settled on after counting the library's books and multiplying by four. This caused a severe curtailment of services which was already quite evident despite the full staff. To save energy, the lights in the library are now dimmed by 50% - only after 6pm. The acting head of the library has high hopes that more books will be acquired in the near future, but presently there are other priorities.

Prof. silverman has a most unusual hobby. He composes forms in his spare time. If he does it in his office while at yeshiva he gets paid for it. His collection of forms, unmatched in the world, are stored in Belfer - floors 2-15. They also provided the land fill for several new housing projects in Manhattan. A student at YU on the average has to fill out about 2500 forms. The amount is sure to increase if you decide to stay for your sophomore year. The prof. likes to stand at that new little window in his office and quote by number some of his favorite forms:

QP 702.35 - waiver of a required course for a prerequisite needed to be taken simultaneously for a minor not required for graduation but mandatory for your major and suggested for graduation

TT-303.39 Application for leave of absence due to your own death. Must be accompanied by ten dollars, initialled by the dean and filed within two weeks.

He still chuckles when he hit upon a brainstorm several years ago and had all the forms that year printed with the bottom having the word 'rejected' already circled. It saved himself and the dean alot of time and ink. But 400 seniors ended up taking speech 1 for six terms before they were allowed to graduate. unfortunately the supply ran out. Over the past years, 2000 students have graduated yeshiva. This is out of 14,000 that have entered but were caught on minor technicalities and requirements unknown to them and everyone else. Soc 61 use to be required of all students before graduation until it was discovered after eight years that yeshiva doesn't offer it. Besides misplacing your folder, sending transcripts out late, failing to notify you of requirements until two weeks before graduation, its not any worse run then any other office at YU.

Sanka
KOSHER - PIZZA Chicago
McDOVID'S

The cafeteria has not been effected by budget cuts. Cafeteria profits are wisely invested in safe investments like Alka seltzer and Pepto-Bismol. Mr Parker's master chefs are noted authors. Their widely acclaimed cookbooks are; "How tzu feed one tousand people mit only $50." and the still to be translated "Meatloaf - How to serve and prepare it for everyday of the year." the cafeteria also receives royalties from its patent on the parve meatloaf.

His round-the-world staff (Germany and puerto rico) prepare dishes that you've never wanted to eat before. The special on the menu is varied each day. on mon, wed you have a choice of chicken, chicken fricassee or chicken 'surprise'. on sun, tues, thurs, you have the wide range of meatloaf, hamburger, meatloaf, meatballs or meatloaf. These items not on the special are slightly higher. (years from now, you will be surprised to find though, that a complete dinner was only $1.50 and it did not leave you hungry for more). By having students clean their own trays away, the cafeteria has enough funds to print signs telling you to put your own trays away. The cashiers employed are also unique. one is so fast, she hands you a bill before you even get anything. another is so slow that you can finish everything on your tray and go around again and not lose your place on line. still another is always overcharging - she will charge you for a side dish if your tie is on your tray. Students are always discouraged from bringing food up to their rooms. This causes a problem with Kashruth, and mo important - alot of disgusting dead rats and roaches are found all over the left over food.

THIS CAKE IS STALE
OKAY, I'LL CUT YOU A NEW PIECE
I'D LIKE TO RETURN THIS, I ASKED FOR SOME HORSERADISH WITH MY MEAT
I'M SORRY, I THOUGHT YOU SAID A RADISH WITH YOUR HORSEMEAT

McDovids is really an expanded Alex's where for a little more you can get alot less. Gone are the days of a hamburger-frenchfries-soda for under a dollar. In fact, McDovids has proven that inflation can make the price of indigestion to go up. After spending a little fortune for supper at McDovids, you certainly won't feel hungry; starved would be a better word.

The prices at Tov Maod (Gene's) (greasy spoon) all vary - usually from minute to minute. In recent years business has died down, in more ways than one.

There are alot of good things you can say about Chopsies Pizza. Just ask chopsie.

HOW TO GET YOUR MONEY BACK FROM PARKER'S MACHINES.....

1. Proceed to Registrar and request form K275.134. You are to sign this sworn statement that in fact you placed ten cents into one of Mr Parker's machines. You are to list the date of the coin, its condition and any identifiable characteristics. You must list witnesses who were present at the time of the loss and then have the form notorized.
2. Proceed to a printer or a stationary store and have a custom made envelope made up to the exact proportions $8\frac{1}{2}$" by $10\frac{3}{4}$" (the size of the form). This is so that when the extremely busy ladies in the registrar's office receive the form, they will not have to waste needless seconds unfolding it.
3. Enclose a self addressed, stamped envelope. mail to:

YESHIVA UNIVERSITY
500 W185TH STREET
NEW YORK, NY 10033

ATT: COLLEGE COMMITTEE ON LOSSES SUSTAINED BY PARKER'S MACHINES

4. Within two weeks you will receive a notice advising you as to a hearing before Dr. Socol, Mr Parker and the board of trustees. Please notify your attorney to be prompt.
5. Following the hearing, you will receive a reply within a month to five weeks. If the reply is affirmative (the defendant reserves the right to retract said response for two weeks) You are then to report to the address herein above promptly the next morning at 7:00am. Mr Parker will then have his expert mechanic check the machine. Plaintiff will be required to pay for the expenses of the mechanic and Mr Parker's time should the machine prove to be in working condition.
6. You are then to report to Dr Sar for a complete physical and a battery of psychological exams to determine the limit of your intelligence.
7. Should you complete all the above, you will receive a letter from the office of Student Finances. You must, within one week have this letter initialed by Dr Miller, Mr Parker, Dr Socol, Mr Nussbaum, Dr Belkin, Prof Silverman, Rabbi Cheifetz, Dean Bacon, Mrs Owgang and Mr Blazer.
8. You will then be sent a notice as to at which bank you can pick up your check. If you reside in New York, it will be a bank in the northeast.
9. The check is only good in sums of up to ten cents. for any loss of amounts above ten cents, you are to go through the above procedure for each ten cents.
10. It is suggested to fill out requests only during times when the finance offices are not busy (Preferably July-August)

If you don't have the time to follow the above procedure, you can:
1. Kick the machine as hard as you can and hope to get your dime back, or
2. assure the guy behind you the machine works. misery loves company.

Dedicated to the memory of HaRav HaGaon R. Menachem Mendel Zaks
Of blessed memory

Who served as Rosh Yeshiva and Bochem of Yeshivas Rabbeinu Yitzchak Elchanan for nearly thirty years. The example he set — in midos, humility and piety, in lomdus and scholarship on all who knew him. As we consider the vast gulf separating us from this saintly gadol, we realize how inferior are our own deeds and that each and every one of us must struggle to attain the impossible heights reached by Rav Mendel.

Visibly overwhelmed by an emotionally charged reception, Israeli Premier Golda Meir cried at a Yeshiva University convocation March 8, 1973, where she was awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Mrs. Meir shed tears as an audience of 2,000, primarily students, chanted a thunderous "Am Yisroel Chai" [the nation of Israel lives] in a prolonged standing ovation.

Col. Marmorstein serves as director of security. He came to Yeshiva after a rewarding career in the Army. As a result, to date, aside from the usual muggings and stolen wallets, there have never been any reports of bazooka attacks or enemy shelling around Y.U. The Col. is most occupied when Dr Belkin makes his appearance on campus. Fortunately this doesn't occur more than once or twice a term.
Most of the guards are recruited from the CIA; Cured Insomniacs Associated. Their only tactical skills are preventing you from entering Parker's via the exit.
Actually, the Col. claims that Washington Heights is a relatively quiet neighborhood. He says he sees very little crime on the streets riding to and from work each day in his new M-54 sherman tank.

The maids don't follow a regular schedule. But they always manage to come around when you're sleeping, or when you've stayed up all night studying or while you're pulling your pants up. The garbage can could have a fly cemetary in it, your floors full of paper and gum wrappers, windows coated with inches of slime, but all she'll find and throw out is your twenty page, typed term paper you hid under your typewriter. You can leave a ten dollar bill in the middle of your room and she'll never find it. She won't pick a pencil off the floor but will lift your two hundred pound barbells and place it on your bed. The usual way you can tell the maid has been in your room is by spotting her huge footprints in the dust. If you have a TV, she'll dust the knob turning it on and off. Try to have a lounge chair or extra mattress in your room. She'll have it taken out without disturbing whoson it. Their singing voices sound like Met baritones and bar girls at O'Reilly's bar and grill. They've also mastered the skill of washing your sink without soap or sponge or water.

I'VE HAD COMPLAINTS THAT YOU HAVEN'T BEEN CLEANING THE EIGHTH FLOOR OF MORG

All the credit for the way the dorms are run can be attributed to Rabbi Cheifetz. Despite the fact that he lives some distance from his office, he prefers to walk to work, unless of course its raining; then he takes his car. Since he arrived at Yeshiva, there have been some noticeable improvements. His office now has air conditioning and some of the dorm rooms even have heating. This is not really an added expense - since his office is hardly used and the heat is rarely turned on in the dorm.

Rabbi Cheifetz can usually be seen talking and joking with the kids. Occassionally he puts his kids aside and listens to students problems. He really has no easy position - he requires a full time secretary and about twenty floor counselors all of whom do as much work as he does. The dorm office stays open every night till midnight or later until the counselors are finished making their own personal phone calls. Rabbi Cheifetz makes sure the dorms are painted at least once every ten years. Anyone who's lived in the dorms knows what an indispensible asset Rabbi Cheifetz is.

There are several essential expenses at Yeshiva that the Office of Student finances fails to notify you of before you enter the college. They also don't provide any financial assistance for them.

$145.00 .... Program changes
212.05 .... lost in Parker's machines
403.15 .... Photostating notes over four years
180.00 .... Parking tickets

When Rubin was built, Yeshiva presented an award to the architect for his achievements. He designed and supervised the construction despite the fact he was deaf and blind. The original cost was estimated to be five million dollars, but was completed for under $100,000. The elevators were designed to be garbage shutes originally and still serves the same function. The building was designed to be climate controlled - hot in the summer and cold in the winter. The administration has high hopes of eventually installing permanent walls and plumbing. The building design is not unique to Rubin. It has also been used for a shoe factory, a pickle processing plant and the Idaho state penitentiary. The original plans called for a dozen 'outhouses' and fireplaces for each room. The administration eliminated these extra expenses along with plans for a fourteenth floor.

As Editors we have tried not to present a too personal, biased view of Yeshiva College. We realize that as our class graduated, they left with ambivalent attitudes toward Yeshiva. We would therefore like to conclude this yearbook with a little help from you.

I ___regret / almost regret / [choose one]___ coming to Yeshiva. It was my ___last / next to last___ choice college. I was ___forced / persuaded___ to go by my ___draftboard / parents___ . I ___never / almost never___ found the Administration cooperative. During my four years at Yeshiva, I actually had ___no / one___ faculty member I could relate to. The Rebbeim were ___europische traditionalists / unorthodox pragmatists / [choose two]___ ; they turned me ___on / off___ . On the other hand, the Y.U. social environment is ___bad / worse___ . As for myself, I might be classified as a ___Yeshiva bochur / Yeshiva bum___ . The Y.U. experience is ___expletives deleted!___ .

The allocated budget for maintenance-buildings & grounds is $200,000 a year. Of this, they only spend $22,50 for supplies and the rest goes for printing up request forms. These forms usually take about two years to be properly filled out and authorized, so it is best to send in any requests in your junior year of high school. Students rarely avail themselves of any of the office's services-usually because no one knows where its located. This department has implimented several money saving programs at yeshiva. The snow around the dorms isn't shoveled in the winter- they wait for the spring thaw. To save energy and money, all dorm rooms now have ten-watt bulbs The administration turned down one way of saving heat in the winter - they felt twenty five students sleeping in one room would be a little overcrowded, and besides, they could only fit twenty mattresses in at one time. They also have installed a unique elevator system in Rubin - it works on the piston principle - as the hot air from Parker rises, so does the elevator - which accounts for why the elevator operates the way it does. Most of the staff, before coming to yeshiva worked for circuses and the Tombs in N.Y. The others are retired stuntmen from the old Three Stooges T.V. shows.

Public relations is really fantastic at yu. They could sell used cars to used car salesmen. Students who were attracted by PR and have graduated yu. are proud owners of the Brooklyn Bridge, and have become Master Builders of YU's School of Architecture.

With very little encouragement anyone who lives within the Y.U. community is likely to get highly emotional on the subject simply because our solutions seem so close at hand, so obvious, so easy but yet so confoundingly unattainable. Y.U's story is a difficult dose to swallow— the people who could do something won't, and if they did, they wouldn't be the people who could do something anymore. Y.U. has lived a long time. With a little effort, we can all survive.

How to Spot the Premed Grub

1. He dissects his chicken at Parker's before he eats it
2. He locks his door and pretends he's not in
3. He has a copy of last years test but tells no one
4. He stays up studying till 4AM - even when he has no test
5. He goes around saying 'I didn't even look at the book' when he already memorized it
6. He takes out every book from the library so that no one else can get to them
7. He gets suicidal if all he gets is a B on a test
8. He has subtle ways of letting you know he got the highest grade. And he always wants to know what everyone else got.
9. He won't participate in anything unless he can put it on his record for med School.
10. He monopolizes over everyone and everything in lab and he sits up front and never cuts any class obnoxious, squints, smells of formaldehyde, has one hand longer than the other from carrying around Morrison and Boyd where ever he goes. He likes to be called 'doctor' but is usually called schmuck.

Identifiable characteristics:

Yeshiva University

Committee on Ceremonial Occasions

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ALL CANDIDATES FOR GRADUATION
as of September 1973, January 1974, and June 1974

The University Committee on Ceremonial Occasions is pleased to inform you that the Forty-Third Annual Commencement Exercises will take place on Thursday, June 6, 1974, at 10:00 a.m. at the Danciger Campus, Amsterdam Avenue and 185th Street, New York.

This kit is to be filed by all students who expect to be candidates for degrees as of September 1973, January 1974, or June 1974. (The receipt of this kit does NOT mean that you are receiving your degree. It is YOUR responsibility to ascertain from the Office of the Registrar whether or not you have fulfilled all the degree requirements. If you are taking courses at another institution for credit at Yeshiva, remember that an official transcript with all your grades must be received by the Registrar prior to the degree date.)

WHETHER OR NOT you expect to participate in the June 1974 Commencement Exercises, the enclosed forms must be submitted by the following dates:

Candidates for graduation as of September 16, 1973 – by August 1, 1973
Candidates for graduation as of January 31, 1974 – by November 1, 1973
Candidates for graduation as of June 6, 1974 – by March 1, 1974

Students whose applications for degrees are rejected for any reason will be notified by the Office of the Registrar and must reapply for the term in which they expect to complete all requirements.

There is a $25 Graduation Fee which must be paid to the Office of Student Finances by all degree candidates. (Do NOT include the fee with your application, send it directly to the Office of Student Finances. Most undergraduates have paid this fee at registration. Students who are receiving a doctoral degree should also note that there is a special doctoral fee in addition to the graduation fee.) The Graduation Fee remains valid for four consecutive semesters and need not be paid again unless more than two years elapse between payment and award of degree. In addition, all students should check that their records with the library are clear, and that they have no outstanding financial obligations to the University.

Diplomas will be mailed according to the following schedule:

September 16, 1973 – by January 31, 1974
January 31, 1974 – by June 6, 1974
June 6, 1974 – by September 15, 1974

A student who needs proof of an award of a degree need not wait for his diploma for this purpose but can request a certificate of graduation, available without charge from the Office of the Registrar.

If you have any questions regarding requirements for graduation, get in touch with the Registrar at the campus of the University which you attend (Main, Midtown, or Graduate).

If you have any questions regarding Commencement, get in touch with:
